Commissioner Ayre is pleased with the range of organizations and individuals that have registered to speak or who have provided written submissions for the Public Sessions. The sectors represented include industry and professional organizations, municipalities, labour, environmental groups, special interest groups, and research and development groups. "I am very pleased with the level of engagement thus far and look forward to hearing thoughtful and insightful comments from the public over the following weeks. Public input is a critical component in the preparation of my final report and recommendations", says Commissioner Ayre.

- A full listing of presenters is available on the Commission's website.

- A schedule of the next day's topic and presenters will be released each evening in advance of each session, and published on our website.
- Written presentations and/or oral speaking notes for each presenter will be posted to the Commission's website upon receipt.
- The general public is welcome to attend all of the sessions.
- Those who have not pre-registered in advance may register on the day of the session, and can ask questions or make a presentation if time permits, at the discretion of the Commissioner.
- Priority will be given to those who have registered in advance.
- For further details on the public review session process, please refer to the Commission's Operational Procedures.
